5.3. QUALITY POLICY

The JST values and the policy shown are used as the basis for commitment, planning objectives, organisation and operation and is applicable to all activities and personnel. This element ensures that the management responsibilities are lucid and that personnel clearly understand the importance of the quality policy.

JST's goal is to be recognized worldwide as providing superior value to its customers and communities. This is done by; developing and marketing outstanding products and services in the form of preferred supplier in a rewarding partnership and by integrating the practice of continual improvement into all aspects of our business.

All operations (and where applicable with targets and objectives) will meet the quality management system requirements of TS16949 and be effectively communicated and understood by the entire organisation. These requirements provide the platform from which JST will further develop its ability to provide value and be reviewed for continuing suitability.
